

5th Annual TCLP Virtual Alumni Training Conference 2017

Join your TCLP colleagues for a two-day virtual conference on Alumni Cooperation. Each day will include presentations and scheduled time for Q&A.

Wednesday, December 13, 2017

Zheng Meng (2015-16)

Zheng Meng is from Chongqing, China. She received her BA in English from China Foreign Affairs University and is a master's degree candidate in Educational Management. Meng has been an English teacher at Foreign Languages School, which is affiliated with Sichuan International Studies University, since 2009. She also works as a class head teacher. She trains students for the annual school foreign languages festival and tutors students for national English competitions. Meng was hosted by Newberg High School in Newberg, Oregon.

Zheng Meng will share how she collaborated with TCLP alumni to organize a district-wide training for English teachers.

Amany Kasab will share how she collaborated a TCLP teacher in the U.S. to implement a joint-classroom project.

Amany Kasab (2015-16)

Amany Kasab is from Kafr El Shikh, Egypt. She holds a BA from Alexandria University, a certificate in TESOL from the University of Edinburgh, and a special diploma in Teaching English Methodology from Tanta University. She has been an English teacher at Matrouh Distinguished Integrated Language School since 2008 and also works as a language teacher for EFL college students at Alexandria University, Matrouh Branch. Amany was hosted by John W. Lavelle Preparatory Charter School in Staten Island, NY.

Thursday, December 14, 2017

Qu Bingbing (2014-15)

Qu Bingbing is originally from Heilongjiang province. She holds a BA in English from Suzhou Railway Teachers College and a M.A.Ed in English from Harbin Normal University. Since 2001, she has taught English at Jiamusi No. 8 Middle School. She has participated in many teaching contests, where she has gained experience in current best practices in teaching software and communicative methodology. Bingbing was hosted by Kolter Elementary School in Houston, Texas.

Qu Bingbing and Chen Manman will talk about their experiences cooperating with TCLP alumni from different years to share best practices in teaching.

Chen Manman is from Changzhou, China. She holds a BA in English from Nanjing University of Finance and Economics and received her master's degree in English Literature from Nanjing Normal University. She has been an English teacher at Nanjing Foreign Language School, Xianlin Campus since 2011. Manman is also the dean of the Business English Department at Yingtan College, where she was recognized as the best director for graduation thesis advising and the Outstanding Teaching Achievement. Manman was hosted by Walsh Middle School in Framingham, Massachusetts.

Chen Manman (2015-16)

December 13 & 14, 2017 at 3:00pm in Egypt, 9:00pm in China, and 8:00am (EST) in the U.S.

Each session will last for 1 hour each day and will be recorded. To attend the live conference, follow the link below:

<https://zoom.us/j/2028337522>

The Teachers of Critical Languages Program is sponsored by the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs (ECA) of the U.S. Department of State and implemented by American Councils for International Education